DETAILED ACTION

Pertinent Art Cited

The following US Patent Applications reveal the current state of the art:

Aoki et al. (US 2002/0185318) teach a method of indicating occupancy status of a vehicle seat based on a measure of seated weight (Paragraph 1), comprising the steps of: applying the measure of seated weight to a low-pass filter function having an adjustable time constant to form a filtered weight (Paragraph 79); establishing a weight threshold (Paragraph 12); setting said adjustable time constant to a first value that provides relatively fast tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight (Paragraph 14); and setting said adjustable time constant to a second value that is lower than said first value to provide relatively slow tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight (Paragraph 12).

However, Aoki does not teach at least setting said adjustable time constant to a first value that provides relatively fast tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when at least one of the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are outside said band; and setting said adjustable time constant to a second value that is lower than said first value to provide relatively slow tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are both within said band.

Fortune et al. (US 6,012,007) teach a method of indicating occupancy status of a vehicle seat based on a measure of seated weight (Column 1, lines 52-55), comprising the steps of: applying the measure of seated weight to a low-pass filter function having an adjustable time constant to form a filtered weight (48 and 50; Column 4, lines 24-26); and establishing a weight threshold (Column 4, lines 42-44).

However, Fortune does not teach at least setting said adjustable time constant to a first value that provides relatively fast tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when at least one of the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are outside said band; and setting said adjustable time constant to a second value that is lower than said first value to provide relatively slow tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are both within said band.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-4 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The primary reason for the allowance of claim 1 is the inclusion of the limitation "setting said adjustable time constant to a first value that provides relatively fast tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when at least one of the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are outside said band; and setting said adjustable time constant to a second value that is lower than said first value to provide relatively slow tracking of the measure of seated weight by the filtered weight when the measure of seated weight and the filtered weight are both within said band". The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to disclose or render obvious.

Claims 2-4 are allowed due to their dependency on claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
